SCIENTIFIC METHOD

CONCLUSION
Share what you learned with others! You can write it down, make a chart, or tell someone.

PURPOSE
Think about what you want to learn. Your questions should start with words like "Why," "How," or "What?"

RESEARCH
Find out what is already known about your question. You can read books, ask an adult, or look it up.

ANALYSIS
Look at what happened during your experiment. Did your results match your prediction?

EXPERIMENT
Plan and carry out a test to see if your hypothesis is correct. Make sure to keep track of what happens!

HYPOTHESIS
A hypothesis is your best guess about what you think will happen. It's like making a prediction.
